

NURSING, MIDWIFERY & ALLIED HEALTH CARE LEADERS IN DIFFERENT CONTEXTS

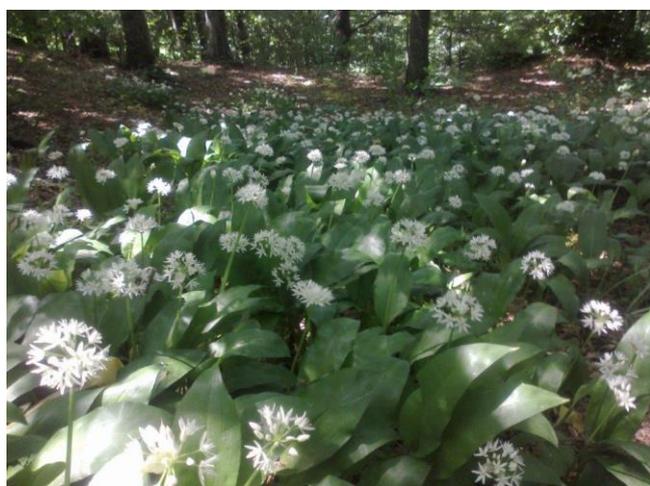

WHICH LEADERS EXCITE & INSPIRE YOU & WHY?

JOIN OUR TWITTER CHAT #NMAHPLeadership

11th July OR 18th July 2018

20.00-21.00 hrs GMT (21.00-22.00hrs CET)

We are interested in growing our knowledge and understanding about how Nurse, Midwife and AHP leaders in different settings¹ make a difference.

The project aims to identify what works when Nurse, Midwife and AHP leaders successfully embed innovative practices across different contexts - clinical care, environment of care, social care & education, organisations, communities and multi-professional teams.

We plan to achieve this through a series of twitter chats, blogs and workshops, refining our insights systematically based on a wide range of peoples' experiences, expertise and evidence.

We are therefore keen to hear from anyone interested in sharing their insights in relation to the four questions below that will be used to guide the twitter chat.

1. Which named specific nurses, midwives and AHPs leaders excite you/others to make a difference in practice, education, research, innovation or strategically?
2. What is it that these leaders do that excites/inspires you/others to make a difference?
3. What differences are you/others able to make as a result of being supported by these leaders?
4. Is there anything else you would like to add that describes these leaders/highlights their leadership qualities?

We are particularly keen to identify through peer nomination those people you think are successful leaders in any context and at any level so that we can invite them to share their insights through writing a blog or attending a national workshop in each country of the UK being held in September and October.

Please visit our forthcoming blog site: <https://blogs.canterbury.ac.uk/ecpd> to learn more about us, the project and our interest in leadership

Please use the hashtag #NMAHPLeadership in every tweet so we can analyse your feedback. We look forward to your participation – Kim Manley, Belinda Dewar, Carrie Jackson, Assumpta Ryan, Debbie Roberts
